

The Karen S. Pieper Teaching and Fellowship Support Award

This award, originally the Best Teaching/Support Award, is designed to recognize a nonfaculty colleague at the DCRI who has been a consistent contributor to fellows' education as well as a strong supporter of the fellowship program. Starting in 2012, the award was renamed to the Karen S. Pieper Teaching and Fellowship Support Award to recognize the original award recipient who was the inspiration for this award when it was created in 2007. Educational activities recognized by this award include teaching statistical methods, manuscript writing, academic financial management, or clinical operations activities. Support for the fellowship program recognized by this award includes providing administrative support that benefits the fellowship program, providing resources that enhance the experience for fellows, or contributing to improvements or changes in the fellowship program. All nonfaculty colleagues at the DCRI are eligible for this award.

Previous awardees:

2022-23: June Clement
2021-22: Janelle Burner
2020-21: Patik Manandhar
2019-20: Daniel Wojdyla
2018-19: Karen Chiswell, PhD
2017-18: Adrian Coles, PhD
2016-17: June Loveday
2015-16: Bradley Hammil, DrPH
2014-15: Janelle Burner
2013-14: Arnetta Davis
2012-13: Pia Lapidus
2011-12: Divine Pinson
2010-11: Penny Hodgson
2009-10: Patsy Clifton
2008-09: Kristen Norlin
2007-08: Karen Pieper, MS